(New Guinea News Service)

SELECT COMMITTEE

WHAT THE REPORT SAID

The Papua and New Guinea House of Assembly began its first meeting for 1971 in the first week of March. The meeting will last for three weeks.

The most important thing the meeting of the House of Assembly will talk about is the report of the House of Assembly Select Committee on Constitutional Development. The Committee is chaired by Mr. Paulus Arek, the Member for Ijivitari in the Northern District of Papua.

two years

It has taken the Committee almost two years to visit all the 18 Districts in Papua New Guinea to talk to the people, getting their views and ideas about the type of government they should have, when Papua New Guinea should be self governing a new name and a flag for Papua New Guinea.

Last week the chairman of the Committee Mr. Arek told the House of Assembly what the Committee had found to be the thinking of the people. The following are the list of recommendations made by the Committee:-

Papua New Guinea should be granted Self Government in the life of the 1972-1976 House of Assembly;

Papua New Guinea should have one strong Central Government as it is at present;

Papua-New Guinea should have only one House of Parliament, as at present;

That all Districts in Papua-New Guinea should be represented by a Regional Member in the House of Assembly;

An increase of 13 new

Open Electorates to bring the number of Open Electorate Members from 69 now to 82.

A committee of the House of Assembly nominate up to three experts in their fields to work as full time elected Members;

The Administration should have 4 members in the House of Assembly. They will be known as Official Members;

The Administrator's Executive Council should have ten Ministers as Members;

niugini

The name Papua New Guinea should become Niugini, that is the Pidgin spelling and the people should be called Niuginians.

The new flag will be rectangular in shape and diagonally divided with the top triangle having a red background and a golden bird of paradise and the bottom triangle having a black background and the Southern Cross. The design of the new flag was presented to the Committee only one month ago at Yule Island in the Central District. The design was by a young girl student named Susan Kanike.

Susan's reason for having the red and black background was that the colours were the main ones used by native people in Papua-New Guinea.

pangu

The Leader of the Pangu Party in the House of Assembly, Mr. Somare said that many Papuans and New Guineans wanted Self Government and yet the Committee's report did not set a particular time for when Papua and New Guinea should become self governing. The Committee also reported that out of the 18 Districts only 7 wanted early Self Government for Papua New Guinea. The other eleven Districts wanted Self Government to be granted between 1976 and 1980.

The Pangu Party has already given its amendments to the House of Assembly. The changes include: No Regional Electorates to exist in the 1972-76 House of Assembly; an increase in the number of Open Electorates. In fact it wanted 31 new Open Electorates bringing the number to 100; it wanted the House of Assembly to make a law about which people are New Guineans.

compass

The leader of the Compass Party and Ministerial Member for Agriculture, Mr. Tei Abal spoke against the Committee's recommendation that Self Government should be granted to Papua New Guinea between 1972 and 1976. He told the House of Assembly that it was very clear from the Committee's Report that eleven Districts did not want Self Government during the life of the next House of Assembly. Mr. Abal said it was obvious that eleven Districts were the majority and the Committee should not have recommended Self Government between 1972 and 1976. He told the House that he was speaking for his people and the Compass Party.

break away

Another Highland's Member, Mr. Ninkam Bomai told the House of Assembly that the Committee had made a mistake in recommending Self Government for Papua New Guinea between 1972 and 1976. He warned the House that if Self Government was granted earlier than this, the Highlands people would break away from the coastal people.

The discussion on the report is to continue all this week. It will be up to the majority of the Members of the House of Assembly to decide whether or not to adopt the report of the Select Committee. If the discussions on the report are not completed during this meeting they will continue at the next sitting of the House of Assembly which will be in June.

A Highland blockholder at Kindeng Resettlement Scheme in the Western Highlands District who received a $3,630 loan from the Papua New Guinea Development Bank to set up a poultry business is now beginning to market his eggs.

He is Mr. Kauga Kupits, aged about 40. Kauga began with 500 day-old chicks and a 60 ft. poultry house built of permanent materials. Arrangements are at present being made to sell the eggs to stores and private customers. Kauga Kupits says that economic development must be speeded up by all possible means. He thinks that the contribution being made by the Papua New Guinea Development Bank is very worthwhile.
